BABY CANIMALS

BABY CANIMALS

RADUGA PUBLISHERS

RADUGA PUBLISHERS Moscow

A A CANAGA C A canaga canag

Samuil Marshak BABIES OF THE ZOO

Agnia Barto
THE BAD LITTLE
BEAR-CUB

Alexei Laptev ONE, TWO, THREE

REQUEST TO READERS

Raduga Publishers would be glad to have your opinion of this book, its translation and design and any suggestions you may have for future publications.

Please send all your comments to 17, Zubovsky Boulevard, Moscow, USSR.

Translation from the Russian

С. Маршак. Детки в клетке А. Барто. Медвежонок-невежа А. Лаптев. Раз, два, три...

На английском языке

Перевод сделан по книгам:
С. Маршак. «Детки в клетке»,
М., «Детгиз», 1967 г.
А. Барто. «Медвежонок-невежа»,
М., «Детгиз», 1966 г.
А. Лаптев. «Раз, два, три»,
М., «Детгиз», 1964 г.

Для дошкольного возраста

© Издательство «Радуга». 1989 г.
© Raduga Publishers .989
Printed in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics

 $3 \ \frac{4803010202-535}{031/01/-89} \ 034-89$

ISBN 5-05-002465-X

Samuil Marshak BABIES OF THE ZOO

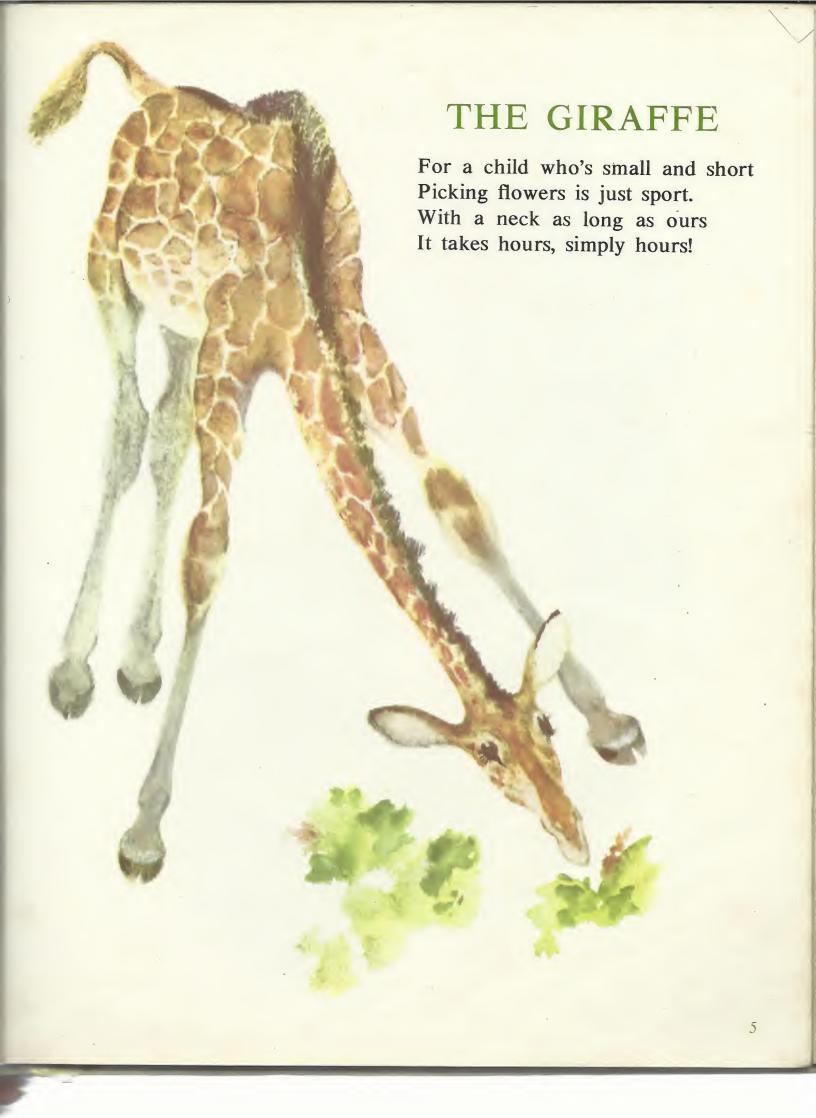

Drawings by Yevgeny Gharushin

THE ELEPHANT

These two slippers I was told To put on when it got cold. They are nice but much too small, And I've four feet, after all!

THE BABY TIGER

I'm a Tiger, not a cat. I am dangerous to pat.

THE PENGUIN CHICKS

Myself and my twin brother
Were only hatched today.
Where can we find our mother?
Is she a bird, you'd say?

Not knowing what your name is Is really rather thick. Here someone comes to claim us, It seems we're Penguin chicks!

MAGO THE MONKEY

I'm new at the Zoo, and my name is Mago. I came here from Africa some weeks ago: A sailor boy brought me from over the sea, Tucked in a box that he made for me.

I'm homesick at times, but happy enough, Eating bananas and this lovely stuff: Called Cod Liver Oil, a spoonful a day. Supposed to keep the doctor away.

THE ZEBRAS

All the Zebras are, of course, Second cousins of the horse.

They are striped from head to toe, In the grass they do not show, So they run about and play Hide-and-seek the livelong day.

THE BABY ELEPHANT

This tiny little tot
Feels very, very hot,
There's nothing like a spray
To drive the heat away.
This tub is not much fun
For tots who weigh a ton.

TWO LION CUBS

Everyone knows our Daddy, don't you? Our Daddy's the Lion at the Zoo. He's got heavy paws and a great mane of hair, And his roar gives people a terrible scare!

A Lion like that must have plenty to eat, So Daddy is given the best kind of meat. But we are just cubs, and our only food Is sweetened milk, which is awfully good!

THE HUNGRY YOUNG CAMEL

Starving me from meal to meal, Don't I get a rotten deal? With an appetite like mine What's two pailfuls at a time?

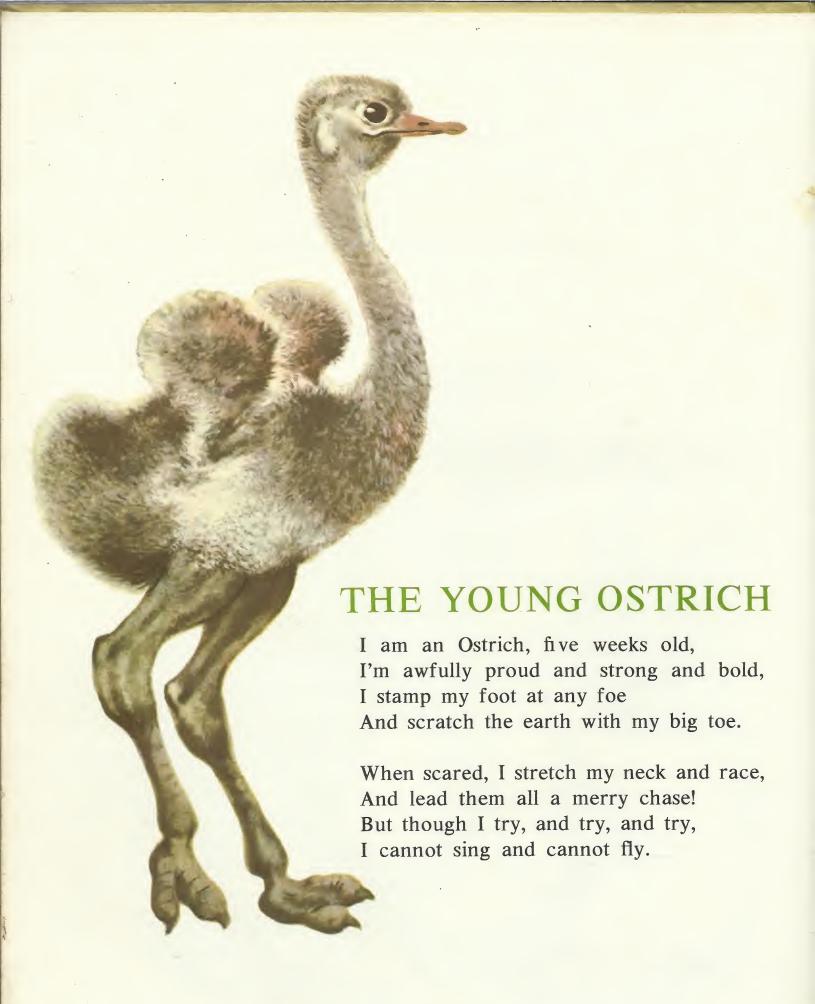

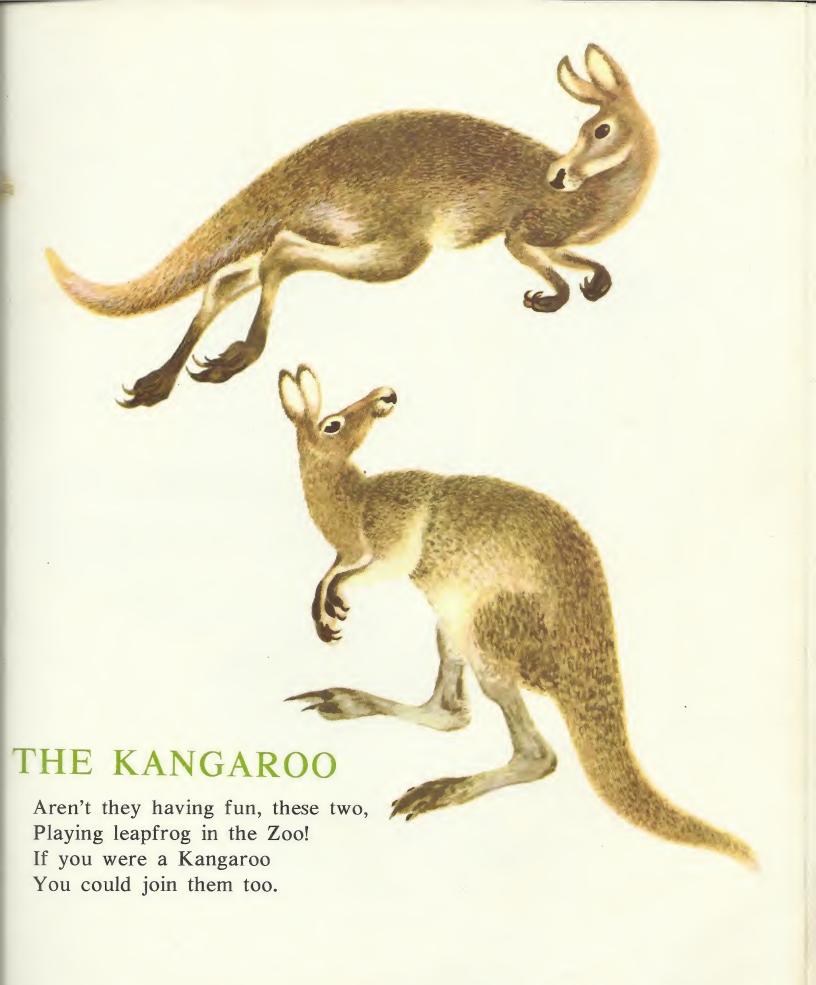

THE POLAR BEARS

How nice to dive and swim and play In such a lovely pool! They change the water every day, And keep it nice and cool.

From wall to wall we love to race, We're really hard to beat! "Keep to the right, there's lots of space, Don't shove me with your feet!"

The Gosling had a dipping With all the grownup geese. He's shivering and dripping, Hand him a towel, please!

TREATHER CONTRACTS

SON TO CONTRACT OF TANK OF

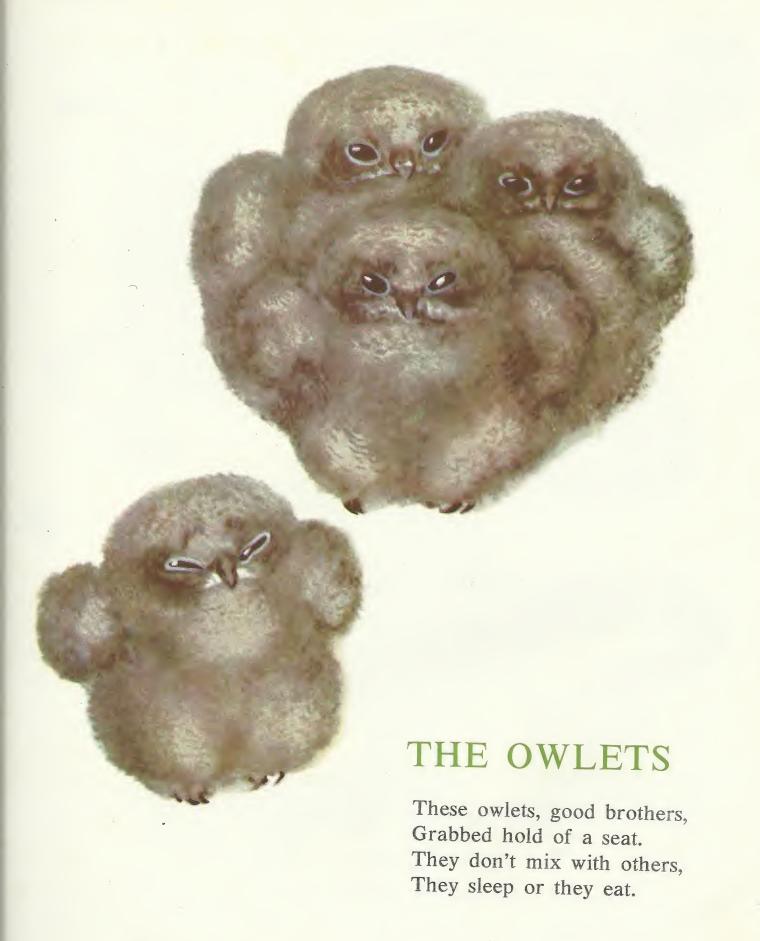

THE ESKIMO DOG

Do not believe the sign that's there. It isn't fair to say "Beware", All those who know me say I am As meek and gentle as a lamb. I always think it's very queer To cage me, like the rest, in here.

THE PENGUIN

Don't I look just like a sack,
One part white, the other black?
In the old days you should see me
Race and beat the fastest steamers!
Now I've grown so very fond
Of this quiet little pond.

THE SPARROW IN THE ZOO

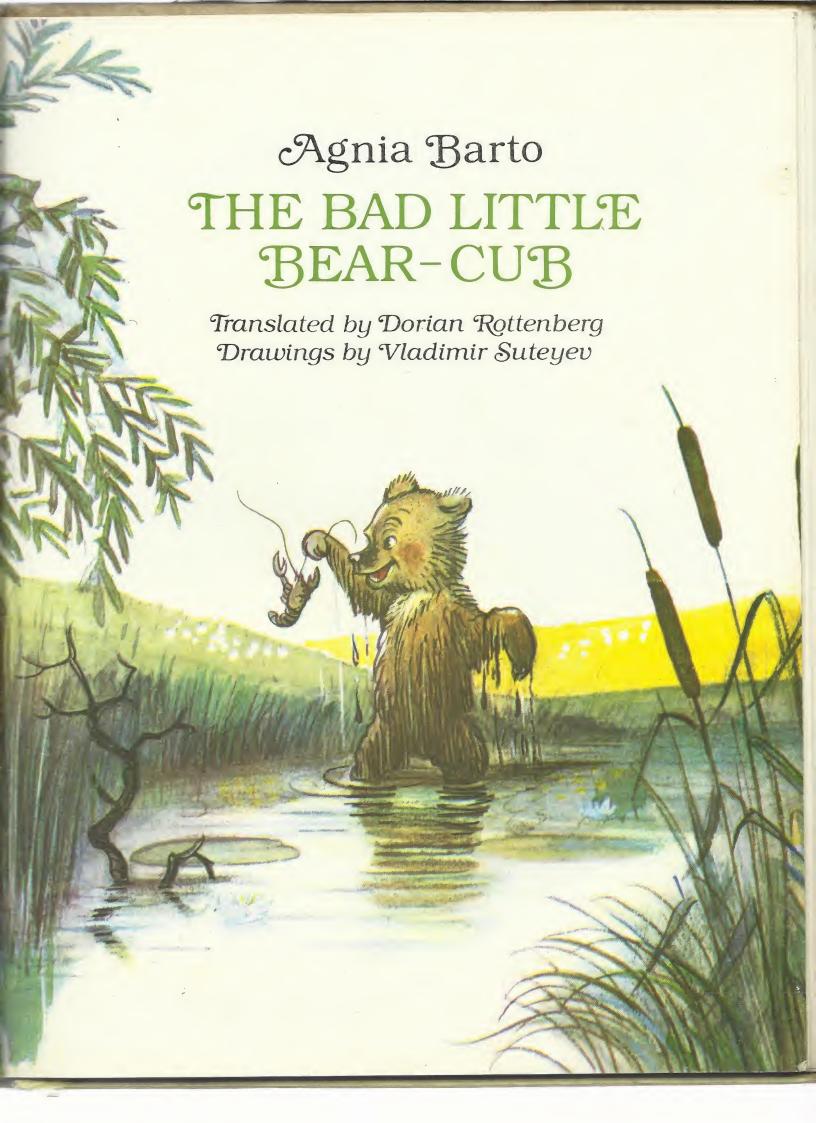

Tell us, Sparrow, do you feed At the Zoo?—I do, indeed.

To the Walrus for a drink, He was very nice, I think.

Then old Jumbo and the Crane Treated me to greens and grain.

Mrs. Bruin had a son,
One I'd wish to anyone:
Like his mother to a hair,
Every inch of him a bear.

From the heat beneath a tree

Mother Bear would hide,

And sure enough young

Sonny Bear

Would huddle by her side.

He'd trip up on a root, he would.

"Poor dear," crooned

Mother Bear.

Indeed, my friends, in all the wood

No finer cub was there.

Yet Mrs. Bruin's young sonny Broke all the rules and laws. One day he found some honey And ate with dirty paws! His mother scolded:

"Naughty brat,
You mustn't grab
Your food like that!"
But Master Bear just gobbled on
And choked,
And coughed,
And spat.

His face became all clammy,

His fur began to stick —

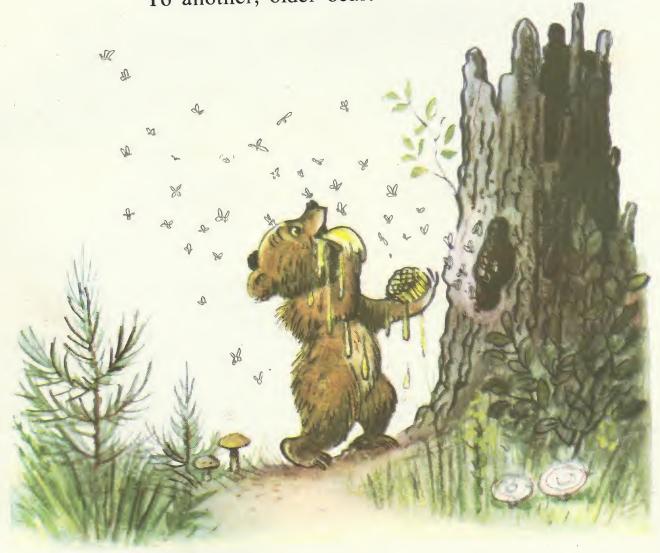

A good day's work for Mammy

To clean, and smooth, and lick.

When Mum and Dad sat down to chat He'd start a noisy squawking.

Now, ought a cub behave like that When grown-up bears are talking?

The bear-cub, coming home one day,
Climbed first into the lair,
And that instead of giving way
To another, older bear.

The other day he stayed away

Till dark, the dreadful lad,

And came with fur all full of hay,

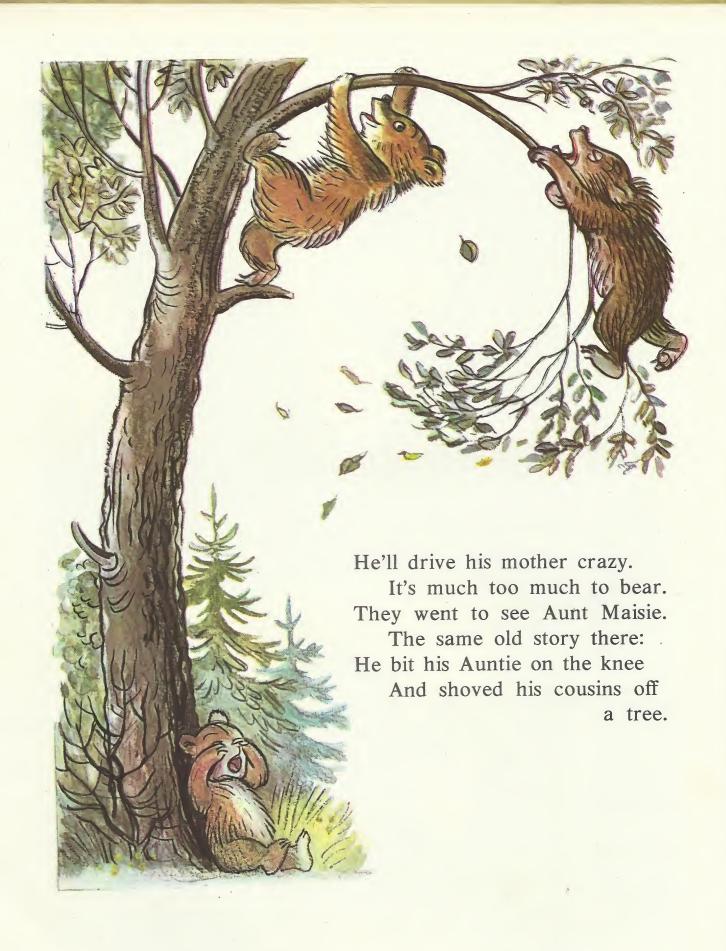

A sight to make one mad.

He said without a trace of shame:

"We had a lovely, lovely game."

Says Ma: "His manners make me weep.

He roars all night, won't let us sleep."

She went and asked her husband,
(As if he really knew!)
"Our son is getting worse and worse.
Please tell me what to do.

"He doesn't know what's right or wrong.

He's robbing birds' nests all along.

He's always making faces,

He fights in public places!"

Bruin answered with a roar,
"Why am I to blame?
What is a bear-cub's mother for
If she can't make him tame?

"The rascal's got a mother,
And she's the one to bother."
But soon the culprit got so bad
He raised his paw against his Dad.
Just think of it—a cub should dare
To snap and snarl at Father Bear!
The father with an angry grunt
Picked up a hefty stick.
(It seemed, his off-spring's latest stunt
Had cut him to the quick!)

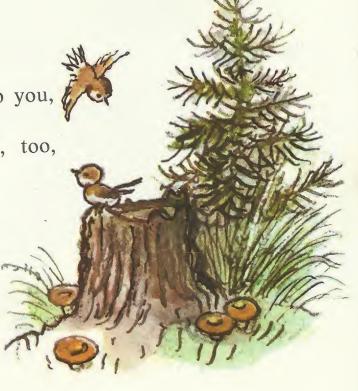

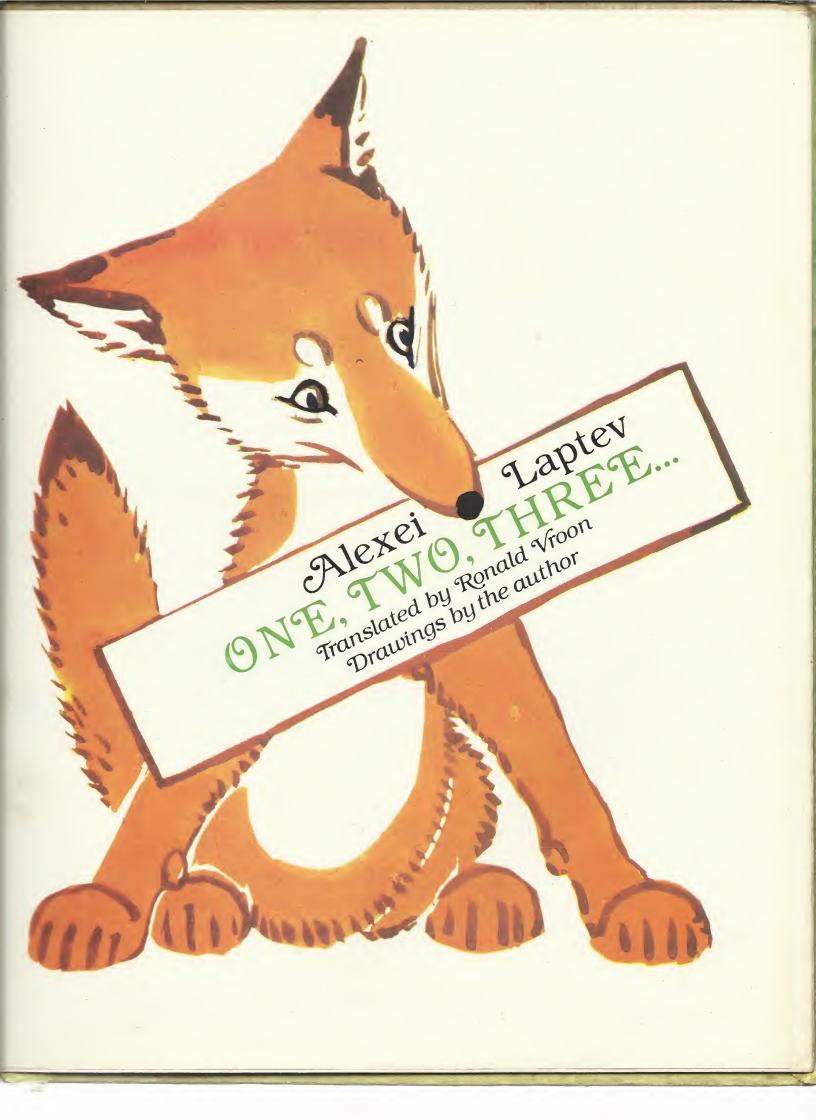

Here Mother started whimpering:
"Oh, I can't bear the sight!
Why, it's an outrage, honestly,
Threshing such a mite!"

While quarrels

Tore the family
The son grew up
Unmannerly.

Though odd this tale may seem to you,
I've often heard it said
That sometimes among children, too,
Such little bears are met.

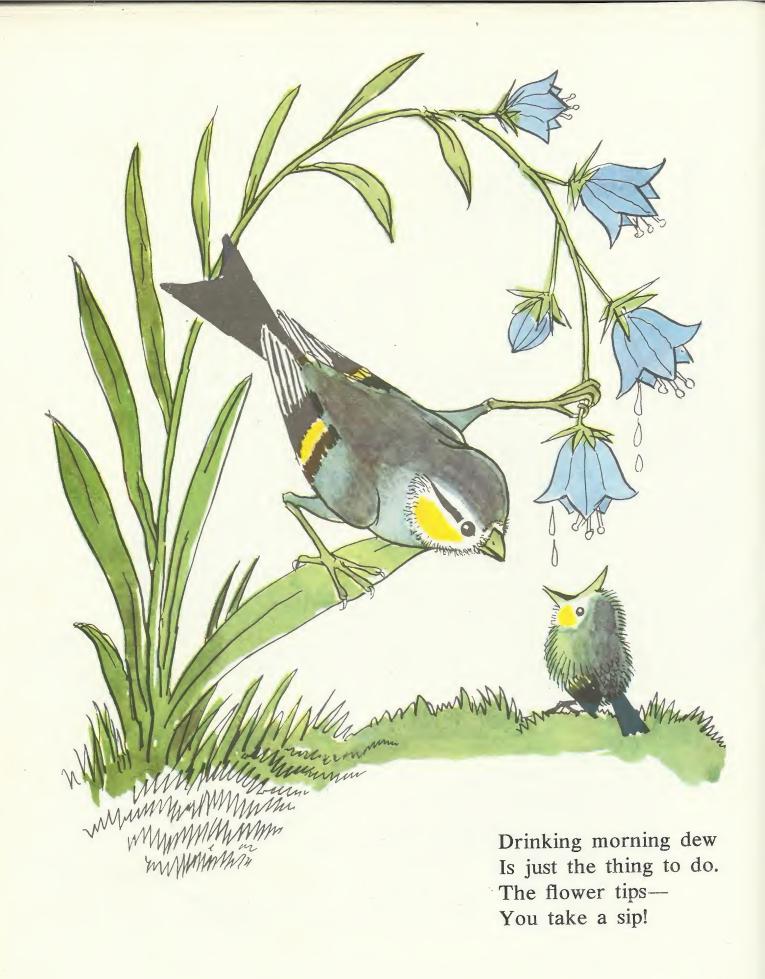

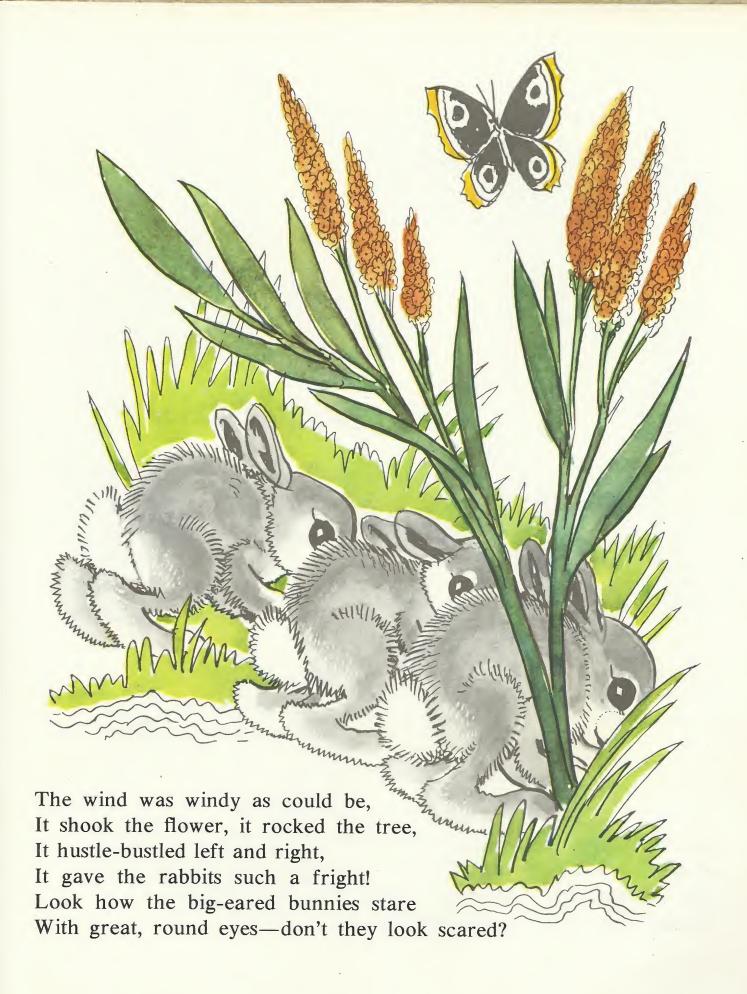

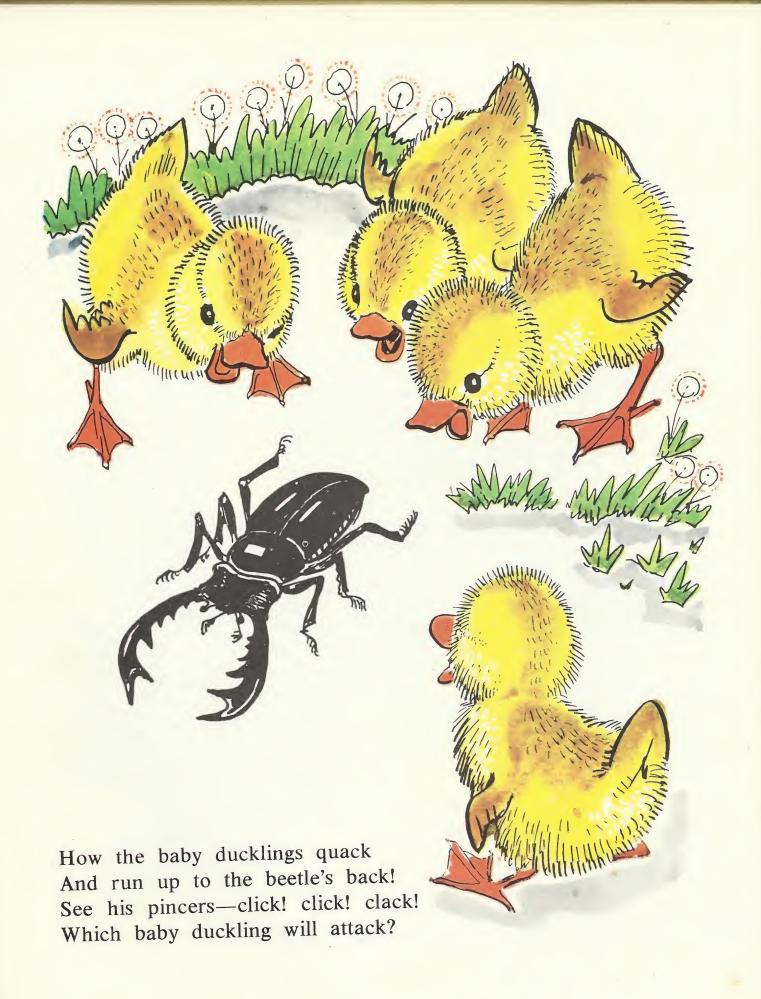

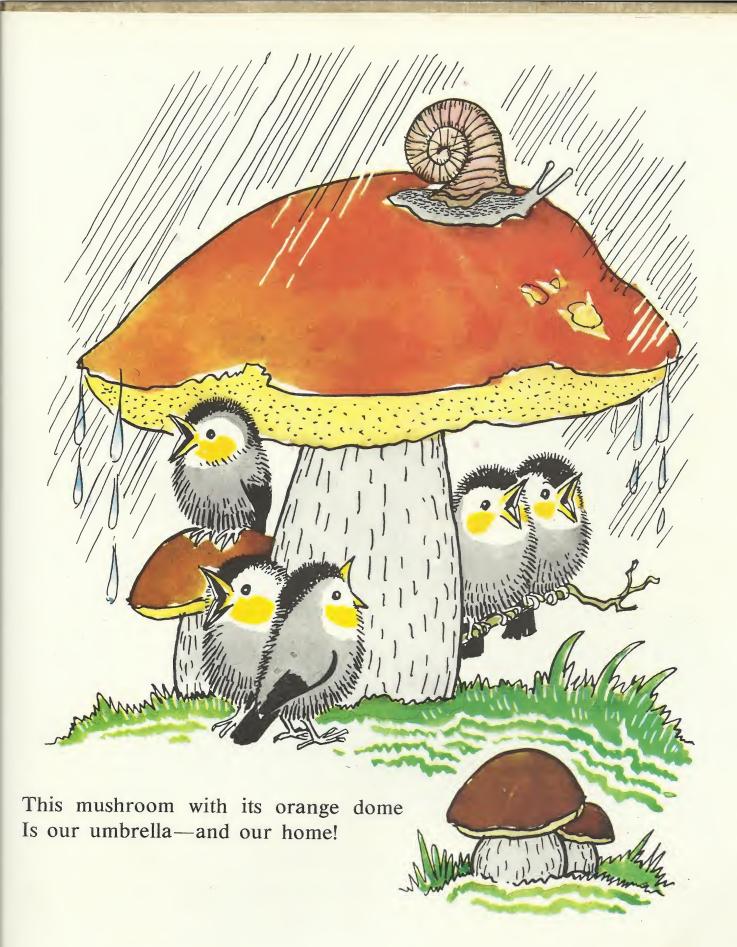

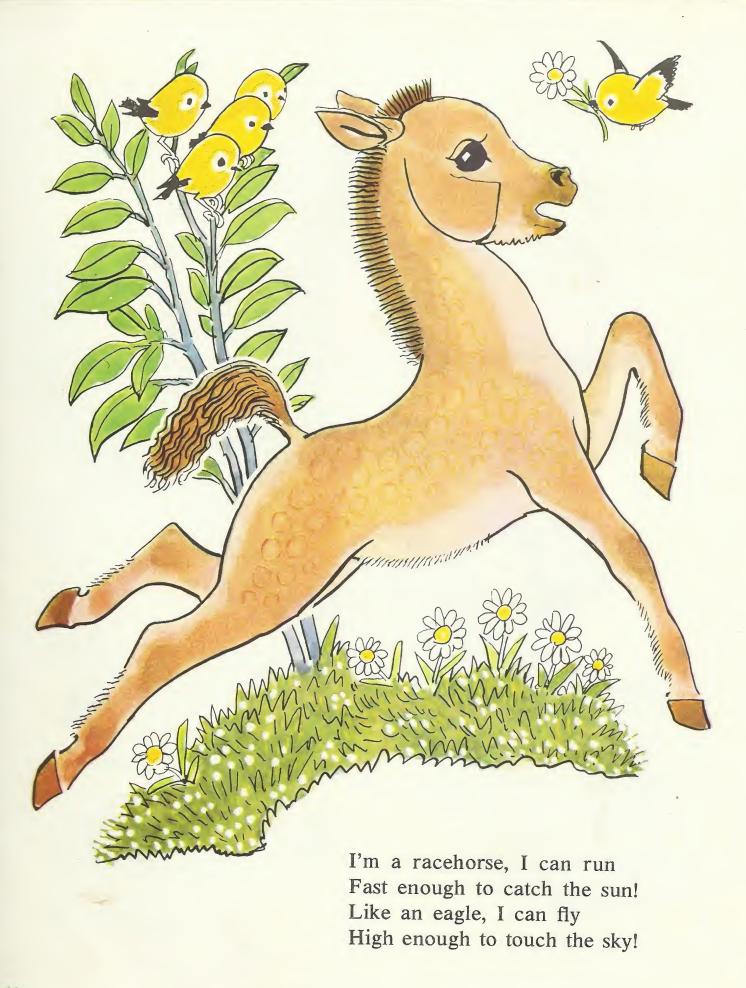

These ducklings share their lunch at noon— They have no fork or knife or spoon.

46

I'm a goat kid, grey as lead,
Tiny horns grow on my head.
My friend is like a little brother—
We never fight—we love each other!

